The Howison Defalcations.

[From the Annapolis Advertiser.]
The papers contain such full particulars of the recent unhappy disclosures of this gentleman's affairs, that it seems unnecessary for us to repeat the story, which is still clouded in mystery. Many theories are vouchsafed, but no satisfactory explanation, based on facts, is yet discovered. Probably some trace will be brought to light in the efforts of those particularly interested to save as much as possible from the wreck that has ensued. Certainly nothing has yet transpired to indicate that Mr. Howison engaged the profits arising from the use of funds and bonds entrusted to his keeping. All have disappeared; but the echo answers where? There is something about these affairs so irreconcilable with fair business capacity and judgment as to create a possible suspicion of insanity. It is said that a brother of his some years ago suffered from some mental derangement and was carried to a hospital for medical treatment. In the meantime, however, the missing securities are being looked up. Mr. John Brown, the largest loser, his involvement amounting to from $25,000 to $35,000, has traced his (all of them, it is said) into the hands of parties who hold them as collateral security. One of the banks here holds $5,000, $5,000 hypothecated. Mr. Brown will endeavor to recover these securities, and his counsel will, in view of all the facts of the case, endeavor to assert his claim to their restoration. They are giving the case a thorough examination, and we already hear of several interesting legal questions that will be mooted before the competent tribunals. The other parties also heavily involved do not seem to have met with equal success—Mrs. Lockwood, Mrs. Mary and Commander Terry. A creditors' bill has already been filed in the estate of the deceased for the sale of his property. It is hoped that the assets of the estate will foot up sufficient to distribute a dividend of fifteen to thirty cents in the dollar among the creditors.

REGULATIONS FOR LENT.—The following are the regulations for the coming Lenten season in the diocese of Richmond and Vicarariate Apostolic of North Carolina, as officially promulgated by the Right Reverend Bishop of this diocese:

1. The Lent this year will commence on Ash Wednesday, the 10th of February.
2. Every day of Lent (Sundays excepted) is a fast day, abiding on all not legitimately dispensed. Only one full meal (to be taken after midday) is allowed by law.
3. Flesh meat is allowed on Sundays at all the meals; and on week days at the principal meal on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, except the second and last Saturday.

4. To those who fast, custom allows in the morning a cup of coffee, or tea, or chocolate made with water, and a small portion of bread; also an evening collation, not to exceed the fourth part of an ordinary meal. Those not having control of their times of repast, and forced to take their dinner at a late hour in the afternoon, are permitted to transfer the collation to the morning.
5. Flesh meat and fish are not to be used during Lent at the same meal.
6. Excluding flesh meats, if the proportion customary for a collation be not exceeded, it is permitted to use at collation the other articles of food, such as fruit, butter, cheese, eggs, or even fish.
7. The preparation of food with hog's lard is allowed.
8. Being under twenty-one years of age, old age, infirmity of health, pregnancy, the nursing of infants at the breast, and hard labor, are good causes of dispensation from the fast. But good reasons for being exempted from the fast are not always reasons to be exempted from the abstinence.

9. The Paschal time extends from the first Sunday of Lent till Trinity Sunday; during which time Catholics who have attained the use of reason are bound to make confession of their sins, and, when approved by their confessors, to receive Holy Communion. A child at the age of seven years is considered bound by the law of confession. Parents should take notice of this fact.
Given at Richmond this 25th day of January, 1875.
JAMES GIBBONS,
Bishop of Richmond and Administrator
Apostolic of North Carolina.

MIXED SCHOOLS.—In the House of Representatives, on Thursday, while the Civil Rights bill was being discussed,
Mr. Cain, of S. C., said there was no part of the bill of such vital importance as the school clause, because education was an absolute necessity. But rather than jeopardize the whole bill he would agree that that clause should be stricken out. He was content with separate schools, but he wanted the Democratic States to build up school houses, and not burn them down.
Mr. Guise, of Ohio, inquired whether the colored people of the South desired mixed schools.
Mr. Cain said they did not. In South Carolina, where the whole school system was under control of colored people, they had separate schools.
Mr. Cobb of Kansas inquired what the effect upon the white people of the South would be if the Senate bill passed.
Mr. Cain replied that the effect would not be a bad one if the law was obeyed. [Laughter.]
Mr. Hynes, of Ark., inquired whether the Democratic States of the South would not sacrifice the common school system rather than permit mixed schools.
Mr. Cain said he was not in the secrets of the Democratic party, and could not speak for them. [Laughter.] He concluded by saying that all he asked for his people was a fair and even chance in the race of life, and a chance to demonstrate their capacities. [Applause in the galleries.]

LEGISLATION.—From the report of the Board of Directors of the Western Lunatic Asylum at Staunton, we learn that there were in the asylum, October 1, 1873, 334 patients—184 males, 150 females; admitted during the year 79—40 males and 39 females. Total under care, 404—221 males and 183 females. Remaining September 30th, 1874, 360—200 males, 160 females. Discharged during the year, recovered, 30—16 males, 14 females; improved, 4 females; not improved, 1 male; died, 0—4 males and 5 females.
